Riverfront And River Merge In St. Louis

The Mississippi moved in on the St. Louis waterfront to make the freight train unloading platforms look more like steamer docks as railroad tracks disappeared under the flood waters. Above the river laps at the produce warehouses in background while a switchman's shanty stands like a lonely island in the foreground.

Three weary levee workers find a bit of high ground and fall asleep from exhaustion after vainly working on the Chouteau Island levee in Madison County, Ill. The sign behind them is grim reminder that levee broke, the Mississippi flooding highways and 2,000 more acres of farmland.

Folly To Turn Down U.S. Aid, Truman Tells Europe

Report Burning Ship Sank Off California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Reports of a ship burning and sinking off the northern California coast touched off a fruitless air and surface search today and the alerting of all shipping to the possibility of a marine disaster.

The report originated at the Oak Ridge forest service lookout station on the Sonoma County coast late Thursday. The station is at 2,600 feet altitude in coastal mountains, with a search range extending 50 miles to sea.

Aerial search at dusk Thursday and again at daybreak today by the U.S. Coast Guard produced nothing.

With the first flash from the forest service station of a tanker burning and sinking, conjecture turned to the Russian tanker Elbrus, which put out Wednesday afternoon for Vladivostok loaded with high test gasoline from Richmond, Calif.

The Elbrus today, however, accepted a radio message, indicating no disaster had befallen her.

The Coast Guard sent out a general alert to shipping in the vicinity to look for survivors or wreckage, but said searchers reported rough seas.

The fire was spotted and reported by Earl Holle, State forest service ranger at the Oak Ridge lookout near Annapolis, Sonoma County.

BURNED 10 MINUTES

Holle reported the fire appeared to break out amidships of a vessel, which looked like a tanker, about 10 miles off the coast Thursday.

It burned for approximately 10 minutes and the vessel began to settle. In 20 minutes, Holle said, the ship went under.

Search planes today carried life rafts and survival equipment. A surface search was also started by Coast Guard motor launches.

Bill For Indian Freedom Before British Commons

LONDON (CP)—A bill to give freedom to the people of India was introduced in the House of Commons today—171 years to the day since Britain's American colonies declared themselves independent.

Prime Minister Attlee presented the bill, which was given a formal first reading. It provides for the setting up of two independent Indian states, Hindustan and Pakistan, which temporarily at least will be members of the British Commonwealth.

Conservatives are not opposing the bill, and speedy approval by both Houses of Parliament is assured.

Carrying the title "Indian Independence Bill," the measure was published simultaneously in London and New Delhi after Prime Minister Attlee had formally introduced it in the House of Commons.

Its 20 clauses and three schedules include these main provisions.

Four new provinces will replace the existing provinces of Bengal and the Punjab.

The new provinces of East Bengal and West Punjab will be included in the new Dominion of Pakistan, together with the Assam district of Sylhet if it decides by referendum to break from Assam Province.

Each Dominion will have a separate office of Governor-General but, if the legislatures agree, each will have the same chief executive.

SOVEREIGNTY TO END

Sovereignty of the King over the princely states will cease together with all treaties and agreements and the states will be independent.

The King will drop his title of Emperor of India—a move requiring the consent of each Dominion before it can be enacted.

Other points of the bill do away with the right of the governor to reserve legislation for approval by the Crown and the right of the King to disallow provincial acts.

Provision is made for division of the Indian armed forces between the two Dominions, but the British government retains jurisdiction over British forces in India at the time of the transfer.

The "Dominion of India" will comprise the sections of India collectively known as Hindustan, where the Hindu religion predominates. Hindu leaders have said that after Aug. 15 they might change the name to the "Union of India," but there appeared no suggestion in the bill that "Hindustan" would appear in the country's title. Pakistan will be the Moslem majority state.

Strike Of Loggers In B.C. Averted As 2 Sides Agree

VANCOUVER (CP)—Threat of a possible strike in the Pacific Coast lumber industry faded today with the announcement by the International Woodworkers of America (I.W.O.A.) and operator representatives that an "interim draft agreement" had been signed by both sides and submitted to the employers and union membership.

Main points in the new contract are a 12½ cents an hour wage raise, retroactive to June 20, and a 40-hour week for the approximately 30,000 loggers and sawmill workers involved. Negotiations still are continuing on minor clauses.

$9,000,000 A YEAR

"Wage increases granted in the new agreement will increase the industry's labor bill by more than $9,000,000 a year," R. V. Stuart, operators' representative said. A new minimum of .95 cents an hour also was agreed upon for "male common labor."

The settlement followed 10 days of meetings under William Fraser, provincial conciliation officer, during which charges of "stalling" were leveled at operators by union officials.

The union originally asked a 20-cent boost, 40-hour week, union shop and employer contributions to a "health and welfare fund."

In granting the increase, Mr. Stuart said the demands came at a time when world lumber market prices have turned downward.

"Employee efficiency in operation will be necessary to help offset the higher wage bill and shortened work week."

LATEST Ramadier Wins Vote

PARIS (Reuter)—Premier Paul Ramadier tonight won a vote of confidence in the National Assembly on his government's economic policy involving austerity measures and pegged prices and wages. Unofficial figures gave the government a majority of about 40 votes.

Cherries At Peak

KELOWNA (CP)—British Columbia's 1947 cherry crop will reach its peak today, nine days ahead of time, officials of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. stated today. Ripening of the fruit was quickened by the warm weather of last week.

Killed Under Train

VANCOUVER (CP)—An unidentified man about 38 or 40 years of age was fatally injured today under the wheels of an interurban train. The conductor reported the man appeared to dive under the front car of the two-car train. His sweater tangled on the bolt of a rear truck and the body was dragged 308 feet.

Shipyards Bargain

NEW YORK (AP)—The Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers (I.U.M.S.W.), which has 63,000 members out on strike at east, west and Gulf of Mexico coast shipyards, today planned a resumption of negotiations Monday with various companies, among them the Todd Shipyards Corporation, which offered a wage increase of eight cents an hour and other benefits.

June Set Record For Cars Arriving Here On Ferries

"A record number of foreign cars entered Canada through the ports of Victoria and Sidney during the month of June," George I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, announced this morning following a study of statistics supplied him by G. A. Yardley, collector of customs.

Through the two ports, 3,541 foreign cars, bringing 10,330 tourists, were cleared by custom officers.

Of this total, 2,362 cars with 6,697 passengers came into Canada through Victoria and 1,179 cars with 3,633 passengers entered through the port of Sidney.

Mr. Warren noted that the total for the month of June exceeded the combined totals of the five preceding months.

The number of foreign cars to be cleared through the lower island ports from Jan. 1 to June 30 stands at 6,518. These cars have brought 8,201 passengers into Canada, Mr. Warren said.

These figures for the six-month period show a 20 per cent increase over the figures for the same period in 1946.

The June imports included cars from Panama, Mexico, Hawaii and from every state of the U.S., with the exception of Delaware, Maryland and South Carolina. Californians were in the majority bringing 1,003 cars from that state.

"All indications lead us to believe that the month of July will surpass the June record," Mr. Warren stated. "They tell me the Ms. Chinook had to leave 22 cars on the dock at Port Angeles this morning because they did not have enough room for them."

"A lot of Americans are coming here today because of the July 4 holiday and they intend to stay until Sunday. Hotels, resorts and auto courts will be taxed to the limit this week-end," Mr. Warren said.

Scores Reasons Given By Russia To Stand Aloof

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—President Truman today described as "folly" the refusal of any European country to take part in a cooperative plan for the continent's economic recovery.

Without mentioning the Soviet Union by name, Mr. Truman struck out at "organized mistrust" which he said leads the world's people "away from peace and unity."

He called for an end of "propaganda attacks upon other nations."

The United States is "living up to its responsibilities for creating the economic conditions of peace," the President said in an Independence Day address from the porch of Monticello, historic home of Thomas Jefferson.

Then, in an obvious reference to the breakdown of the preliminary Paris conference on the European aid proposal of State Secretary Marshall, he declared:

"Yet, certain nations today are withholding their support of reconstruction plans on the ground this would mean interference by some nations in the internal affairs of others."

PARTNERSHIP NEEDED

"This is as fallacious as the refusal of a man to enter a profitable business partnership on the ground that it would involve interference in his private affairs."

"Surely after two world wars nations should have learned the folly of a nationalism so extreme as to block co-operative economic planning among nations for peaceful reconstruction."

Mr. Truman listed these four requisites for what he called "peace for all time":

1. Common adherence to the principle that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. "There must be genuine effort to translate that principle into reality."

2. Common respect for basic human rights. "No country has yet reached the absolute in protecting human rights. In all countries, including our own, there is much to be accomplished."

3. Free and full exchange of knowledge, ideas and information among peoples and maximum freedom in international travel and communications.

4. National economic and financial policies which will "support a world economy rather than separate nationalistic economies."

The President did not indicate what specific steps the United States may take in view of Russia's adamant stand against the British-French co-operative reconstruction plan, but said:

"I believe United States is living up to its responsibilities for creating the economic conditions of peace. We must realize that these responsibilities are continuous. Even the emergency aspects of the job are not yet behind us."

ALL MUST HELP

"It is not enough, however, for one nation to live up its responsibilities for aiding reconstruction and for co-operating in the production and the exchange of goods. The co-operation of all nations is necessary if the job is to be done. To the extent that any nation falls behind, to that extent will urgent needs for food, clothing and shelter remain unfilled."

Mr. Truman appealed to all nations and peoples "to break down the artificial barriers that separate them."

"I appeal," he said, "for tolerance and restraint in the mutual relations of nations and peoples. And I appeal for a free flow of knowledge and ideas that alone can lead to a harmonious world."

Soviet-Influenced Countries Not Committing Themselves On Stand

LONDON (AP)—Officials of countries under Soviet influence generally refrained today from committing themselves on Thursday's British-French call, despite Soviet aloofness, of a Paris conference July 12 to implement the Marshall recovery program.

Several countries having close political or trade relations with Russia were among the 22 invited to join Britain and France in the meeting.

The break-up of three-power Paris talks on the plan Wednesday and the subsequent invitation provoked these reactions over Europe:

Poland — Foreign circles said Foreign Minister Molotov's stand against the plan complicated the position of the Warsaw government, tied politically to Russia but looking to the United States for economic assistance.

Yugoslavia — No official statement was forthcoming, but official circles were reported surprised and somewhat disappointed.

DISAPPOINTMENT REPORTED

Romania — Romanians were said to be disappointed at the break-down of the Paris talks, though they had expected it.

Norway — Officials said Norway would back the plan if it turned out to be a sound international trade agreement, not directed against any country.

Belgium — Premier Paul Henri Spaak told the Senate it would be criminal to miss the opportunity offered.

Sweden — The Foreign Office declined comment. Political circles expressed belief Sweden might consult with Norway and Denmark on a common position.

They speculated that Russia's stand might affect Sweden's attitude.

Moscow newspapers, which had given much space to the break-up of the Paris talks, had not yet published news today of the British-French invitation.

The radio in a morning broadcast announced Molotov's return by plane Thursday night.

In London, the influential Times commented editorially that if Russia irrevocably turned her back on the Marshall plan, Poland, Czechoslovakia and other small eastern European countries probably would follow, harming "political relations" and "the confidence upon which trade depends."

Amsterdam's Liberal Algemeen Handelsblad declared: "Western Europe may be crushed between the two greatest powers—the American anvil and the Russian hammer."

CZECHS GO TO MOSCOW

PRAGUE (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist Premier Klement Gottwald and Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk decided suddenly today to leave Prague tonight for Moscow.

Undoubtedly they hope to confer with Foreign Minister Molotov or perhaps Prime Minister Stalin, on the crucial economic position created here by Russian rejection of the Marshall aid-Europe proposal.

They will go by train through Warsaw, accompanied that far by Polish Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz and nine Polish ministers, who today signed the last link in a Slav-nations network of cultural and trade pacts which could form the basis for a separate eastern European economy.

Tornado Sweeps Out Of Manitoba Into North Dakota Taking Toll Of 10 Lives

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (AP)—Ten were known dead today and 30 were in hospitals after a tornado which ripped down the fertile Red River Valley to cut an 80-mile-long path of death and ruin from southern Manitoba into North Dakota and Minnesota.

Telephone and electric wires were torn out, scores of farms leveled, many head of livestock killed and a dozen towns and villages hit by "roaring twister." Witnesses said hardly a tree remained upright along the windy trail.

One man was killed in Windy Gates, Man., 100 miles north of Grand Forks, where the blow apparently originated. Seven died in North Dakota before the roaring funnel blew itself out after killing a farm couple at Oslo, Minn., 20 miles northeast of here.

A second storm swept the Mayville-Portland, N.D., area 40 miles south of Grand Forks and leveled the buildings on at least a dozen farms, but there were no known casualties.

Heaviest death toll was at Auburn, N.D. There, six died when the wind collapsed a farm house quartering a half-dozen migrant Mexican farm workers and their families. Two of these victims were babies.

At Warsaw, N.D., a town of 100, Frank Rogalla was killed and his wife was reported missing. Early reports said only the church and town hall remained standing at Warsaw, but a later aerial survey showed only one wrecked building.

Witnesses said a heavier death toll was averted because the tornado was visible for miles across the plains before it struck. Mrs. M. Patterson, the telephone operator at Oslo, said that community's 400 persons were almost all watching a ball game when the twister was sighted.

Spectators and players recovered the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Mazin C. Anderson from their razed home three miles east of Oslo.

Wreckage At Sea Thought Lost Plane

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A U.S. army search plane reported today it had sighted wreckage at sea and believed it to be a C-54 military cargo plane for which a widespread search was under way.

Search was also being made for a 100-foot freight ship which is five days overdue on a voyage from Miami to Puerto Padre, Cuba.

A coast guard PBM rescue craft, capable of landing in choppy seas, sped toward the spot 300 miles northeast of Miami where the B-17 pilot circled the wreckage.

The missing army plane left Kildley Field, Bermuda, Thursday morning and was due at Morrison Field, West Palm Beach, at 4:14 p.m. E.D.T. It carried fuel sufficient to keep it aloft until nightfall.

Plane Crashes In City

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—A man and two children were killed today in the crash of a light airplane on a boulevard within the Camden city limits.

Traffic Fatalities, Storms, Mar U.S. Independence Day Festival

By Associated Press
As President Truman delivered the traditional Independence Day address from the steps of Monticello, which was President Jefferson's home, millions of U.S. citizens today celebrating their traditional holiday with family outing and municipal programs of speeches and fireworks displays—though traffic fatalities and storms marred the day.

An estimated 30,000,000 cars were on the highways and 13 persons were killed in eight states hours before the peak of the mass movement was reached.

SHIPS WARNED

A storm raged in the Atlantic. Ships were warned of gales off the middle and north Atlantic coast.

The republic's first soldier and army chief of staff, Gen. Dwight

D. Eisenhower, also chose a southern site for his holiday address—historic Vicksburg, Miss., celebrating its third Independence Day.

Previously the city had remained in mourning on the fourth anniversary of the city's surrender to Gen. Grant in 1863.

CROSS THE BORDER

TORONTO (CP)—From every point of entry in Ontario today came reports of a record-breaking influx of visiting U.S. tourists swarming into the province to celebrate their national holiday. Border cities were crisscrossed with choppers and hotel accommodations were at a premium.

Student Researchers To Check Gophers On Prairies For Plague

REGINA (CP)—Two plague-chasing university students are rolling their guns and shining their dissecting instruments today as they prepare to scour the prairies for bubonic-infested gophers.

John Cumming, second-year medical student, and Aaron Shaffer, who has just completed his first year in biology at the University of Saskatchewan in Saskatoon, last summer gathered gopher fleas which later were proved to carry bubonic plague.

But Dr. H. S. Doyle, director of the Saskatchewan division of communicable diseases and who supervises the youths' work, stressed that the discovery did not reveal any menace to public safety. The centuries-old disease spreads among human beings only after a severe epidemic among animals.

The Saskatchewan summer surveys, started in 1942 after signs of the plague had been discovered among rodents at Crosby, N.D., just 10 miles south of the international border, are to ensure that the disease is not increasing among gophers, rats and ground squirrels.

Last year the students drove their small, laboratory-equipped truck across southern Saskatchewan, shooting up to 70 gophers and rats daily.

They will concentrate their two-month search, beginning about July 10, in the western part of the province, around Alsask on the Alberta-Saskatchewan border, where they found the first evidence of the disease in the province last year.

IN DRUMHELLER AREA

Plague was discovered among animals in the Drumheller, Alta., district in 1942 and led to the quarantining of 200 square miles in the district. Similar surveys have been conducted through the western United States, where the disease has been noted in nine states.

During their expedition, the youths will use four guns—a .410 repeater, a .22-calibre rifle and two .12-gauge shotguns. One will drive the truck along lonely prairie roads while the other lounges on a front mudguard, alert for any sign of gophers.

Afternoons they will do their laboratory work, dissecting the animals and shaking off the fleas, which will be sent to the federal laboratory of hygiene at Kamloops, B.C.

Bracken Takes Part In Halifax Campaign

HALIFAX (CP)—John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, said here Thursday night the federal government should provide grants in lieu of taxation for cities like Halifax burdened with tax-free crown property.

Addressing a rally in a movie theatre in support of his party's candidate in the July 14 by-election, Mr. Bracken said he had decided this policy at Ottawa and had noticed that the Canadian National Railways had recently made a settlement in Halifax in lieu of taxation.

"You should not be required to pay municipal taxes that the Dominion government should bear," he declared. "It should not be the responsibility of local communities to supply the Dominion with public services free of cost."

This added an additional burden to the taxpayers and made rates so high new business was discouraged. Halifax had $112,000,000 worth of assessable property. Of that, $57,000,000 was tax exempt. Of the $57,000,000 some $38,000,000 belonged to the federal government or its agencies.

A. A. McDonald, the candidate, and other party members spoke. When Mr. Bracken was listing the problems of Nova Scotia a man in the audience shouted: "We haven't even got a tavern where a man can get a glass of ale."

Wants Divorce In Canada Abolished

OTTAWA (CP)—Demands for complete abolition of divorce in Canada, and particularly of the practice of granting divorces through Parliament, were heard in the Commons last night as 122 Quebec divorce bills came up for consideration and were temporarily blocked.

Ralph Maybank, Lib., Winnipeg South Centre, declared Parliament should tell the people that the "honeymoon is over"—that it would pass no more such bills.

Eugene Marquis, Lib., Kamouraska, Que., said divorce should be outlawed in Canada and quoted Christian Scripture to support his view.

They spoke during the full hour allowed for consideration of private bills and the House took up other business with the divorce measures still on the heavily-laden order paper. But Veterans' Minister Mackenzie

Fatter Pay Envelopes For Wage Earners As Income Tax Lighter

OTTAWA (CP)—This is Independence Day in the United States and more independence day in Canada. For thousands of weekly Canadian pay envelopes this is the Big Day when the cheques start fattening up on the news Finance Minister Abbott broke budget night in the Commons.

He made July 1 the effective date for income tax reductions averaging 2 per cent and meaning anything to individuals from cents to dollars.

So a reporter went out to remind his fellows of the lush tidings and the first man he spied was on the House of Commons staff.

"Greetings," said the reporter, "and what are you going to do with all this extra cash?"

"Nuts," said the man. "The wife and I go out yesterday to a butcher store and I ask for a sirloin steak, so big, a miserable little thing, so big (making with his hands), and the guy says '80 cents, please,' and you ask what I'm going to do with the extra cash."

"Bills, brother. 'It'll go out for bills . . . besides I don't get the cut for another two weeks.'"

So the reporter fled down the

To Call Final Bids On Arena Contract

Specifications for the remaining portion of the Memorial Arena will be ready by the end of this month and tenders will be called immediately, Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the arena committee said today.

"We are anxious to get the tenders called as quickly as possible to see if we have funds to cover the full construction or not," he commented.

Ald. Dewar said he was checking to see exactly how much money remains in the fund and how further funds, if found necessary, can be raised.

Monday at the City Council meeting the vacancy on the arena commission, caused by the resignation of H. B. Olsen will be filled.

Swept By Fire

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Fire gutted and crumpled the five-story milling section of the Gwinn Milling Company, one of central Ohio's largest flour mills, today. Company president Clarence E. Gwinn said the loss would total $600,000.

Three hours after the first alarm, firemen reported adjoining elevators safe from flames, but they had eaten three stories or more down one 7-story unit.

The loss, said Gwinn, would run at least as high as the blaze which wrecked similar damage in 1945, despite nearly empty elevators and some last-minute rescue work.

No injuries were reported.

Tennessee Father Chains Daughter, 16, To Bedpost

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Geraldine Massengill was found chained to a bedpost at her home Thursday on her 16th birthday and Police Chief Joe Kimsey said girl told him that her father chained her "to keep me from going out."

Kimsey said the girl's father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. William Massengill, had been jailed for questioning. Massengill said he had chained his daughter, Kimsey said.

The slight, hazel-eyed girl told police, Kimsey said, that she had never seen a motion picture, never been swimming and seldom was allowed out of the house.

"She told us her father whips her at least every week with a belt and displayed marks across her back and hips," Kimsey said.

Geraldine's plight got the attention of the police, the chief said, through a note she wrote and tossed out of a window. A neighbor girl found the note and notified police.

"We're going to see she has a nice birthday," Kimsey told reporters. "We've collected money to buy her some new clothes, a permanent wave and a bathing suit. Then we'll turn her over to juvenile court authorities to find a home for her."

Kimsey said Geraldine weighs 90 pounds, is four feet two inches tall.

Missing Youngster Found Alive, Safe

Greta Mary Gale, 2½, found by searchers on rugged hillside approximately a mile from a family cabin near Lee's Camp, Calif., is rushed to hospital for observation shortly after she was found by members of a 350-man posse. Although missing almost two days, the youngster appeared unharmed.

Would Nationalize Britain's Tobacco

LONDON (Reuters) — With Britain's tobacco industry passing through a crisis as a result of increased taxation and cut-tailed imports, the industry's unions Thursday called for nationalization of tobacco industry and a government inquiry into the trade.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer, Hugh Dalton, earlier this week announced that imports of tobacco would be slashed to meet the dollar shortage, but union delegates claimed there was enough Empire tobacco to maintain employment without increasing dollar expenditure.

Some 4,000 of the tobacco worker union's 23,000 members are already working short time. The Imperial Tobacco Company, leading concern in the industry, announced today that allotments of certain brands would be cut because of "the uncertainty of future supplies of leaf tobacco arising out of the shortage of dollars."

Would Aid Manitoba

OTTAWA (CP) — Reconstruction Minister Howe said in the Commons Thursday afternoon he was not aware Manitoba government had yet made any request for assistance in helping with the repair of damage caused by recent floods in the province. He told F. S. Zaplinsky, C.C.F. Dauphin, that any such request would be given careful consideration.

Kidnap-Beating Leads To Arrests

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The strange kidnap-beating which one of the victims charges was engineered by pretty actress Madge Meredith—an allegation she denies—brought the arrest Thursday of two more men.

One of them, identified as Albert W. Tucker, 29, North Hollywood—nurseryman, was quoted by police as saying that Nicholas Gnanclis, 38, who charges he and his bodyguard were kidnapped, beaten and robbed by three men, himself was behind the affair.

"Gnanclis—engineered—the whole thing himself so he could place the blame on Miss Meredith," police quoted Tucker. "They were having trouble over ownership of a house and Nick wanted to get the girl in trouble."

Miss Meredith, after a night in jail, told reporters: "It's perfectly ridiculous. If anybody was threatened it was me."

Taken into custody with Tucker was James Hatfield, 33, identified as a former police officer. They were booked on suspicion of kidnap and robbery.

Gnanclis, 38, Miss Meredith's ex-manager, told sheriff's deputies she had lured him and Vern V. Davis, 32, his bodyguard, to a rendezvous near her home to discuss litigation over title to a house.

Christmas Trees Basis Of Charge

MONTREAL (CP) — Michael Allard was arraigned Thursday before Judge Omer LeGrand on a charge of false pretences in connection with the promised sale of Christmas trees to several United States firms. He was held without bail pending preliminary hearing July 17.

Eighteen U.S. citizens claim to have been defrauded of $40,000 by Allard.

According to the crown and special investigators, Allard had published in American newspaper advertisements promising delivery of Christmas trees last Dec. 1 to 5. The trees were never delivered, they claim.

STILL MIXED UP TOGETHER

REPORTS FROM ALL ACROSS CANADA as this is being written indicate that a record number of our good friends from the neighboring Republic are celebrating Independence Day in this country. They fully understand how thoroughly welcome they are. And they come at this stage with a new concept of their nation's responsibility to civilization in the light of a challenge unparalleled in their own or the world's history. Events in Paris this week have served to emphasize this point in all its stark reality.

On the other side of the international ledger, however, is the comforting fact that no July 4 has passed for many decades without appropriate anniversary exercises in those British lands with which the original 13 colonies were associated prior to 1776. Though no political or constitutional tie exists, the bonds of sympathetic understanding and practical co-operation in the cause of peace and progress are growing stronger, especially under the impact of a new threat to the security and liberty of a large section of the globe.

The proposal for economic and other forms of assistance to continental Europe which United States Secretary of State Marshall proclaimed for his country at Harvard has forged a new bond between the neighboring Republic and Great Britain—a new means of more active collaboration and a new vehicle for mutual understanding and respect which Canada's role as interpreter has facilitated through the years. It will be recalled how promptly Mr. Bevin hailed the American offer a month ago as an essentially practical method of reconstructing a war-ravaged Europe.

These developments, not only because of their intrinsic merit but also because of their fulfillment of prophesy, are obviously giving Mr. Churchill cause for pleasant and satisfying contemplation. We say so as we remember a statement he made in the House of Commons at Westminster a trifle more than three months after he became Prime Minister—Aug. 20, 1940, to be exact—in which he discussed the leasing of bases in Newfoundland and the British West Indies to the United States. He then said in part:

"Undoubtedly this process means that these two great organizations of the English-speaking democracies, the British Empire and the United States, will have to be somewhat mixed up together in some of their affairs for mutual and general advantage. For my own part, looking out upon the future, I do not view the process with any misgivings. I could not stop it if I wished; no one can stop it. Like the Mississippi, it just keeps rolling along. Let it roll on full flood, inexorable, irresistible, benignant, to broader lands and better days."

It should be understood that when the wartime Prime Minister of Great Britain uttered those words the United States was just warming up to a vital presidential election campaign—and the Atlantic Charter did not emerge until a year later. But Mr. Churchill stuck to his Mississippi theme. For when he welcomed Mr. John Winant as the American ambassador to the Court of St. James's in March, 1941, he declared:

"... the day will come when the British Empire and the United States will share together the solemn but splendid duties which are the crown of victory."

Let it be noted that nearly nine months had yet to elapse before the neighboring Republic again found itself confronted with aggression in its most brutal sense. So on Dec. 21, 1941, after Pearl Harbor, Mr. Churchill finished a memorable address to both Houses of Congress in Washington with these words:

"I avow my hope and faith, sure and inviolate, that in the days to come the British and American peoples will, for their own safety and for the good of all, walk together side by side in majesty, in justice, and in peace."

Mr. Churchill is now among the audience feverishly following the moving panorama of world events. He played his part faultlessly. And no finer tribute could he have paid to Canada than when he called this nation "the linchpin of the English-speaking world" and alluded to Mr. Mackenzie King in glowing terms for the manner in which "he has contributed to joining together in close sympathetic action the Republic of the United States and the Dominion of Canada." Small wonder, then, that Canadians are today welcoming their good friends and neighbors in record numbers on this their Independence Day. The world needs this spirit of comradeship and understanding.

FUN AND PHILANTHROPY

IT APPEARS TO BE A TRADITION OF the Queen Alexandra Solarium that means of raising funds for its heartening work at Mill Bay are almost invariably accompanied by an entertainment feature of wide appeal. The Hole-in-One Contest and Carnival sponsored by the Gyro Club is a typical example. At the Junior High School site the energetic clubmen have arranged competitions and games that offer enjoyment to all who care to participate. And with the fun goes the added satisfaction of making a contribution to an exceedingly worthy cause. All citizens of this community are invited to visit the carnival. No money spent there is wasted. It helps to finance a job in the execution of which this community is proud—the job of helping crippled children to a greater share of the sunshine of life.

SETTLEMENT FOR HOW LONG?

BRITISH COLUMBIANS IN THE MAIN will view with some satisfaction the settlement of the chief points at issue between the International Woodworkers of America and the lumber operators—an arrangement which apparently removes the danger of a strike in this province's woods. At the same time they must realize that the agreement reportedly reached will increase the cost of production and almost inevitably force still higher the price of materials urgently needed for housing. In other words, the return of conditions permitting the construction of moderately-priced homes, for which labor, veterans and citizens of this and other parts of Canada have been hoping, appears to have been further delayed.

What influence the wage-hoist in this basic commodity will have on the general price structure and the cost of living should need little elaboration. On the constructive side, the settlement means that the flow of lumber will not be halted, beyond the seasonal curtailment involved through fire hazard. It means, too, that members of the union will have increased their purchasing power. On the other hand, it seems obvious that more people will be unable to undertake the costly process of securing their own shelter.

On the basis of computations made by Mr. R. V. Stuart, the agreement respecting wages will increase the industry's labor bill by more than $9,000,000 a year. It is highly optimistic to expect employee efficiency in operation to offset that sum and to compensate for the reduction of working hours to 40 a week. These are facts to be recognized. They do not, however, overshadow the point that agreement has been reached without recourse to the use of the paralyzing strike weapon.

LET THE PEOPLE KNOW

THE NEWS DISPATCHES CONTAIN A significant reference to typical Soviet policy in connection with the recent unsuccessful Paris conference to try to arrive at a unified European rehabilitation plan. It is revealed that although the Moscow newspapers gave full publicity to the break-up of the British-French-Russian meeting, they had not up to this morning made any mention of the invitation of Britain and France to 22 European countries to get together to solve their joint problems.

This is a factor which we often forget in trying to assess the trend of public opinion in Russia, for the plain fact is that the Soviet people read and hear only what the Kremlin bosses want them to know. If other nations make a generous offer of co-operation, the Russian public may hear only the fact that another attempt at interference by capitalist countries has been successfully repulsed by Communist diplomacy. For us, who live in a country where freedom of the press is a jealously-guarded right, it is difficult to appreciate the almost incredible state of public information—or misinformation—in police states.

Keeping a population of 200,000,000 under the control of a governing party which numbers only about 1,300,000 calls for some devious propaganda devices and manipulation of news reports. Foreign books and newspapers are not available to the Russian public; foreign news broadcasts are frowned upon. In such a situation it is any wonder that the current Soviet "diplomacy" can be carried on without a protest from the men and women of Russia, whose human aspirations to homes, families, security and peace are the same as our own? Universal freedom of information is one of the goals of the United Nations. Its attainment will remove one of the most serious obstacles to world understanding.

SHE CAME AS A FRIEND

IN VANCOUVER THIS WEEK THOUSANDS of Canadians are extending a warm welcome to the personnel of the battleship U.S.S. Iowa. Her visit to Canada's western port is an occasion for tribute by this nation to the seapower of the friendly neighbor. It provides an opportunity for the exchange of courtesies between the sailors of the United States and the people of this Dominion. And if the unsettled conditions of today add a sobering note to the arrival of the huge ship, it is one of thankfulness that this type of assistance is available to Canada should she need aid against an aggressor.

The public reaction to the vessel's visit may provide a study in contrasts to that with which units of the American fleet were greeted in the eastern Mediterranean some months ago. On the latter occasion, the United States ships made their "courtesy" call to the Middle East with the ulterior motive of disclosing to national interests not in accord with democratic thought the sea power that was available to meet them should differences flare into active hostilities.

The demonstration in Vancouver is attended by no such objective. The Iowa has come as a friend. Her bulk, which could be so forbidding to hostile eyes, assumes something of the good nature usually attributed to size and strength when she floats in Canadian waters.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP
CRUMBS IN TRUMAN'S BED

THERE IS A GOOD CHANCE that next year, for the first time in recent American history, an incumbent American President will have to face a convention deeply split on the issue of his renomination. For the signs are that Harry Truman will have to run a gauntlet to which even Herbert Hoover, at the low point of his political popularity in 1932, was not subjected. In a number of states the regular Democratic organization appears to be coming apart at the seams, making it probable that a considerable bloc of anti-Truman delegates will be in noisy attendance at the 1948 Democratic convention.

The process of coming apart at the seams is most clearly visible in California. There a loud, three-cornered row is in progress. In the middle is James Roosevelt, the late president's oldest son, and presently chairman of the State Central Committee. On one side is Edwin Pauley, California national committeeman. On the other is the ebullient Robert W. Kenney, who lost his own party to Republican Governor Earl Warren last autumn.

KENNEY HAS LOUDLY ANNOUNCED his intention of capturing the party for Henry Wallace next year. He has called a mass meeting at Fresno for July 19 to choose a straight Wallace slate of delegates to the 1948 Democratic convention. He has also announced that he hopes and believes that James Roosevelt "will be with us."

Thus it is peculiarly significant that Roosevelt, who is believed to hold the political balance of power in the Pauley-Kenney row, has telegraphed to Washington, to suggest a meeting between himself and President Truman, Pauley, and Gael Sullivan, now substituting for the ailing Robert Hannegan as the president's chief political quarterback. The purpose of the meeting is to find some way of settling the California row. Roosevelt and Pauley have never been particularly chummy politically.

Yet one result of the meeting may be an understanding that some time in the future Roosevelt will supplant Pauley as national committeeman.

IN ANY EVENT, Kenney will not be easy to stop. After he was snowed under in his own party by Warren (one of those California miracles incomprehensible to outsiders) Kenney took temporarily to the political storm cellars. He does not enjoy anonymity, however, and as chief broker for the Wallace third party, he is now again in the limelight. He is backed by former Representative George Outland, Representative Helen Gahagan Douglas, his chief brain-trusters, and by the massive California lunatic fringe. He may well capture some, if not all, of California's many delegates. The same pattern holds elsewhere. In Oregon a pro-Wallace group called the Confederationists has captured the party machinery. The party organization is threatened in Washington, and there are pro-Wallace stirrings in Idaho, Colorado, and even in Illinois. New York, with its American Labor Party, certainly pro-Wallace, is a special case. Finally Minnesota, too, shows signs of turning sour on the regular Democratic organization.

IN MINNESOTA the Democrats and the Farmer Labor Party have somewhat tentatively joined hands. Former Governor Elmer Benson, a leading light in the pro-Wallace Progressive Citizens of America, is also a leader of the Farmer Labor Party. State Chairman Harold Barker, who holds some of the trump cards in the situation, is reported to be a Benson and Wallace man. Thus the distinct possibility of a Wallace slate looms in Minnesota also.

One key to the situation is Hubert Humphrey, mayor of Minneapolis. Humphrey is probably the most popular Democrat in the state. He is also a vice-chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, the anti-Communist, anti-Wallace Liberal organization. Yet Humphrey was so pro-Wallace in 1944 that he held the Minnesota delegation for Wallace for vice-president to the bitter end. He is reported to have been disillusioned last autumn when Wallace visited Minnesota.

ON THAT OCCASION Humphrey told Wallace that the Communists were heavily infiltrating the Democratic Farmer Labor organization. He appealed to Wallace to help get them out of his hair by roundly condemning them in a speech Wallace was scheduled to make. Wallace is understood to have suggested quite seriously that Humphrey get in touch with Moscow, and put the matter squarely up to the Politburo on a man to man basis.

Wallace then proceeded to do the usual stunt about "Red-baiting" in his speech. This feat so stunned Humphrey that he avoided Wallace on the latter's recent junket to Minnesota. Yet even if Humphrey holds firm, and fights the Wallace slate of delegates, the Minnesota position is by no means secure for the regular Democrats.

WHAT ALL THIS adds up to, of course, is a sizable bloc of anti-Truman delegates at the Democratic convention in 1948. They cannot possibly hope to beat Truman. But they can march ostentatiously from the convention amid loud cries of "Wallace for President," and proceed to set up a third party organization. In doing so, they will certainly succeed in wrecking the Democratic party, at least temporarily. They will also succeed in electing the most stodgily conservative Congress in a great many years.

The Lessons Of Convalescence

Canada Looks At Her Schools

BY COMPARISON with some countries, and even with some other provinces, British Columbia's educational system and its physical assets may seem something like Caesar's wife—beyond reproach. The excellent publicity released during Greater Victoria's school building by-law campaign, however, will bring some modification to that judgment. It will cost the citizens approximately $2,000,000 to pay their share of a modernization and expansion project adequate to meet needs in this community alone. And Victoria is relatively high on the list in respect to Canadian educational institutions.

ALIVE TO FAULTS

Results of surveys conducted by the National Committee for School Health Research, sponsored by the Canadian Education Association and the Canadian Public Health Association, reveal some of the deficiencies which exist throughout the Dominion—deficiencies, moreover, to which this province is not immune. It is a matter for some congratulation that the authorities have undertaken the surveys. At least they are not disposed to assume an air of complacency. They recognize the necessity of major improvements to protect and develop Canada's most precious asset—its children. This recognition, in itself, is an encouraging sign. Before faults can be corrected they must be known.

HEALTH PARAMOUNT

The most pressing need, in the opinion of the association, is greater attention to the health of pupils. Working on the primary aim of developing young Canadians sound in mind and body, it has delved into different factors influencing that development. Those probes moved it to report:

"It would be ridiculous to think of functional health teaching in many schools where sanitary conditions are actually a menace to health. Health teaching which is functional can be obtained only when the school environment is conducive to such teaching. There is much to be done. Without exception, every environmental condition which has been studied in the survey requires correction or revision to some degree."

At the outset, the reports note that the surveys have been conducted on the basis of provincial units. No breakdown is provided to indicate the grading that exists between cities, or between urban and rural communities. Hence, British Columbia's averages, in various respects, suffer from the lack in many rural schools of facilities available in those of urban centres.

SUBJECTS

The subjects with which the association deals are enlightening as a guide to the approach made to the question. Expert opinion has been secured on school environment, on natural and artificial lighting, heating and ventilation, lavatory accommodation, water supply and equipment. Another section covers health teaching in schools, the methods employed and the personnel engaged for that purpose, together with an analysis of the effectiveness of such instruction. Still another department of the report gives specific attention to physical education, the facilities and certificated instructors available. Nutrition is discussed in a section listing arrangements made in various areas to supplement the lunches children carry to school, and emphasizing the tuition students receive in this important division of their health studies. And particular attention is given the question of mental health—the arrangements made to assist the atypical child to remove frictions which endanger his or her health, and to improve the pupil's ability to adjust himself or herself to conditions both in the home and at school.

EVERYONE CONCERNED

This is the material with which the National Committee for School and Health Research has dealt to date. The situations revealed in different provinces call for careful study. They form a subject which is of vital concern to parents and taxpayers, since it is to be assumed that disclosure of inadequacies will lead to remedial action that must be financed by public funds.

The improvements proposed are not "frills." They might have escaped notice in the days of the little red school house, but present appreciation of their importance has brought them squarely before the public. These are elements of the preparation that is required for young Canadians growing into new responsibilities as their nation assumes an increasingly imposing position in the world.—A.H.S.

The Job In Greece

By JAMES THRASHER from New York

American political policy, as well as American financial aid, seems to be making some impression in Greece. Reports from Athens state that government leaders are taking pains to squelch the extreme rightists among their supporters and to create the notion that those at the governmental helm are actually middle-of-the-roads.

Then, too, there is the agreement by which American experts, stationed in the Greek cabinet departments, will keep track of the use to which every dollar of the American loan is spent. If the stories of the way some of the British aid to Greece was used are true, this agreement is highly important.

One of the worst things that could happen, as the Truman doctrine gets its first practical application, would be for the funds to be used for political purposes in supporting a government which is neither wholly representative of the Greek people nor a model of democratic monarchy.

STILL TO BE SEEN

It remains to be seen whether the Greek government has undertaken a suppression of its far right extremists. But at any rate the government's obvious desire to look its most democratic indicants that the arrival of American dollars and American representatives has produced a slight change of heart. And that is encouraging.

Much more encouraging would be the news that Greece is to hold new elections. This is not an immediate possibility. But even the promise of elections might help to quiet unrest and restore civil order.

Evidently Greek affairs are in

From A 'Canadian'

U.K. Information The Bishop of Guildford announced recently that a commemorative chapel in the new Guildford Cathedral was to be associated with the gratitude of the people of Surrey for the help of the Canadian Forces during two wars, and to perpetuate the links with the people of Canada which were forged during those years. It is now disclosed that the generous gift of £40,000 made four years ago for the completion of the purchase of the site of Guildford Cathedral, then known to have been made by "a Canadian," was made by Lord Bennett, a former prime minister of Canada.

as much of a mess as ever. The civil war goes on. The Communists control the E.A.M., which, politically, is the only place for anti-government Greeks to go unless they want to stay at home. Even the discussion of admittedly needed administrative reforms in the government has been put off until autumn.

NEED ELECTIONS

Economically, American aid can help Greece to her feet. Politically, there doesn't seem much hope until the civil war is ended, its foreign instigators driven out, and a representative government elected. This also seems to be a part of America's job in Greece, if the Truman doctrine is to be found its critics by doing what it set out to do.

The announcement of new elections should come from the Greek government alone. But American insistence should legitimately be behind it. And the American government should take some responsibility for the honesty of those elections.

This would not be interference or imperialism. Rather, it would be an effort to insure those "free and unfettered elections" which the Potsdam Declaration decreed for Poland, but which didn't come off.

TWO NATION THEORY

India Information
Posing the question whether the readjustment of India's geography meant recognition of the theory are two nations, Mahatma Gandhi, at a prayer meeting, said that, assuming the Moslems of India looked on themselves as a nation, distinct from the rest, they could not become so if non-Moslems did not respond. Moslem majority areas might call themselves Pakistan, but the rest, and largest part of India need not call itself Hindustan. Mr. Gandhi supposed that this was the reason why Pandit Nehru refused to call non-Pakistan areas as Hindustan and loved to call it by the proud name of Union of India Republics, from which some Moslem majority areas had seceded. Mr. Gandhi urged Hindus to prove to the Moslems of Pakistan, by their toleration and character, that in Union there was no discrimination what so ever on grounds of religion, caste or color, and the only test was merit, which every industrious citizen of the Union would have ample opportunity to acquire.

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
A.P. Foreign Affairs Analyst

PROBABLY the question foremost in the minds of 99 people out of 100 is whether the split between Russia and the western Allies at the Paris economic parley will increase the danger of another war.

The answer, as your columnist sees it, is definitely "no."

Mind you there's danger of further conflict. But that threat existed long before the Paris conference and has no relation to the tense drama of the past few days.

On the contrary, I believe that the Paris showdown, in which Moscow has emphasized that there are in fact two worlds and not one, has lessened the prospects of another global conflict by clarifying the situation.

We now know exactly where we stand. It is confirmed that Russia intends to continue consolidation of her eastern bloc of nations and to expand her zone of influence if she can.

Of course, the western democracies long realized that this was the trend, but they temporized. They hoped that Moscow's ambition would be satisfied when its zone of domination included those countries which it deemed necessary for security purposes. That was a vain hope, but we needed the Paris denouement to make its futility crystal clear.

The western Allies now can get busy with the economic rehabilitation of all European countries which want to participate in the program. Economic stabilization will act as a dyke against the Communist tide which has been sweeping westward, because chaos favors Communism.

"But won't this mean the division of Europe into two blocs with clashing interests?" you demand.

Certainly it will. It's important to note, however, that these blocs aren't new. They were the result of the westward thrust of Moscow's zone of influence. The difference between them was that the Russian bloc was thoroughly organized, whereas the so-called western bloc was comprised of nations which individually were opposed to Communism but weren't organized as a unit to combat it.

Could anything be more encouraging to further war than for Russia or any other power to gain complete domination of Europe? I think not. A strong western bloc must surely be a deterrent and may give an added world time to come to its senses.

Doukhobour Title 'Empty Shell' Say Spiritual Elders

NANAIMO (CP)—A group of Doukhobours settled 35 miles north of here on Vancouver Island have renounced all connections with the rest of the Doukhobour groups.

They have also given up, the name, "Doukhobour."

The group is "The Elders of the Spiritual Community of Christ," who branded their former nomenclature in an open letter to the 7,000 Doukhobours living in British Columbia's interior, as "an empty shell."

The letter declared that the group numbering in all 65, was willing to accept into their new settlement any Christian, "if prepared... for a daily program of mutual service on the basis of the Golden Rule."

Free OK Apples For Britain Urged

PORT ALBERNI (CP)—Mayor W. C. Hamilton of this Vancouver Island centre proposed today that the whole Okanagan apple crop be sent to Britain free of charge.

Mayor Hamilton, president of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, suggested that everyone in B.C. buy at least one box of apples for shipment overseas.

Britain announced recently that a shortage of Canadian dollars would probably prevent her from purchasing Canadian apples.

Menonites Delayed On Paraguay Move

WINNIPEG (CP)—B. B. Dubinski, counsel for 3,500 Menonites who plan to move from Manitoba to Paraguay, said Thursday that External Affairs Minister St. Laurent "is not correct when he says (in the Commons) that only one passport was applied for."

Mr. Dubinski said he and others had been corresponding with the External Affairs Department since last October about the proposed migration and the department had forwarded 800 application blanks.

Their departure, however, had been delayed indefinitely by inability to obtain shipping space since the Menonites, a religious sect of German origin, are neither refugees nor displaced persons. Deposits have been paid on 48,000 hectares (about 1,200,000 acres) in Paraguay.

Mr. Dubinski said the Manitoba Menonites who wish to migrate are "those who have adhered most tenaciously to the older tenets of their faith, one of which is their principle of unconditional non-violence."

The DOCTOR Says:

SURGERY BEST RELIEF FOR BRONCHITIS

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Young adults with bronchitis can develop serious personality changes as a result of their illness. Relief can be obtained by a surgical operation if the condition is checked in time.

In bronchitis the walls of the bronchi are destroyed by infection. The bronchi widen and develop pockets. Stagnant foul sputum is brought up by spells of coughing from these pockets.

Patients with bronchitis complain of cough, expectoration and bleeding from the lungs. The general public believes that they have tuberculosis and shuns them. In young children the disease interferes with school and play. Young men and women find it interferes with earning a living and social life.

Dr. Ralph Adams and Dr. Bernard J. Fiearra report their experience with 50 cases of bronchitis treated by surgery. In each case it was possible to remove the diseased portion of the lung and in most cases excellent results were obtained.

Bronchitis is a disease of young adults, many of them women. Original bronchial infection develops from sinusitis, measles, influenza, whooping cough, scarlet fever and pneumonia.

REMOVE TO AVOID SPREAD

Patients are usually ill for some time before surgery is considered. The disease is generally limited to one part of the lung. The good results which follow surgical removal suggests the operation should be done in the early stages. In patients who failed to get good results the disease had extended to other portions of the lung, making complete removal impossible.

Patients with bronchitis who are in middle or late life usually are so worn down by their disease that surgery is usually not recommended.

BORNEO NATIVES CHEW BETEL NUTS AND FILE TEETH

The large village known as Tenom is in northern Borneo. This section is under control of Great Britain, but the greater part of the island is a Dutch colony.

Among the buildings in Tenom is a large house known as "The Residency." This house is used by British officials.

One day two women who had been guests in the Residency left to go to another part of Borneo. A few hours later, a king cobra was discovered under the floor of the bathroom which adjoined the room in which they had slept. The deadly snake was killed promptly.

King cobras, as well as other kinds of snakes, usually live in pairs. There was fear that another one might be inside the house, or nearby. An Englishman found the mate a short distance away in the midst of some bushes. He poked at it with a paper umbrella which he was carrying, but could not reach it.

Instead of being frightened, the cobra crawled toward the man with the umbrella. That gentleman had been known as "slow-moving and never in a hurry." When he saw the serpent coming toward him, he changed his ways in a hurry, and dashed 200 yards to the house. There he obtained a rifle, and shot the cobra a few minutes later.

The more savage natives of Borneo are known as Dyaks. They go about the island barefooted, and spend very little time worrying about cobras, mosquitoes or other pests.

The Dyaks have reddish brown skin, and their hair is black or dark brown. Their ancestors were head-hunters, but the old custom seems to have died out almost completely. It is suspected that this custom still goes on in a few of the tribes which live far from the coasts of the island.

The Dyaks like to chew betel nuts and leaves. A red juice comes from this chewing, and it stains the teeth. As time goes on, the stain on the teeth becomes black instead of red.

Some of the natives have the silly custom of filing their front teeth. This is done by women as well as men. The teeth are pointed by the filing, and it is fancied that this makes them better-looking.

Brother Gives Bride In Marriage

In a quiet ceremony Wednesday afternoon in the rectory of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Irving O'Connell gave his sister, Miss Drucilla Mary Gertrude, only daughter of Mrs. H. M. O'Connell, 144 Linden Avenue, and the late P. L. O'Connell, in marriage to Herbert Cecil Langton, youngest son of Mrs. M. G. Langton, 851 Fleming Street, and the late L. A. Langton.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. H. S. Howard, Beach Drive, where officiating minister, Father John R. Buckley, proposed the toast to the bride, Mrs. O'Connell and Mrs. Langton welcomed guests with the young couple.

A white prayer book, showered with Sweetheart roses and surrounded with a single orchid, was carried by the bride. She chose pastel pink nylon blouse, matching pillbox hat and black suede accessories to accent her distinctive grey tailored suit.

A two-piece frock in yellow linen was worn by the bride attendant, Miss Mary Hynes. She wore yellow flowers with lime green veiling in her hair, pale lime gloves and corsage bouquet of yellow roses.

The bride donned a grey gabardine coat over her wedding ensemble for the trip by plane to Seattle.

On return, Mr. and Mrs. Langton will reside at 148 Linden Avenue.

Hospital W.A.—Mrs. J. Dewar was in the chair at the meeting of the W.A. to Lady Minto Hospital, Ganges Harbour, Salt Spring Island. Treasurer's report showed $230.36 in the bank. Mrs. V. Harroway was elected sewing convener to replace Mrs. C. Trafford. It was announced that Pender Island Women's Institute would handle upkeep of the new children's ward. Exchange Vows In Home Ceremony

Arrangements of salmon pink dahlia and gladioli formed a pleasant setting at the home of the bride, when marriage vows were made by Miss Ruth Alberta Churchill, daughter of Mrs. Albert M. Churchill, 808 St. Charles Street, and the late E. L. Churchill, and Gordon Bertram Ralston, son of Mrs. Gertrude M. Ralston, 1256 Acton Street, and the late H. W. Ralston.

Wedding music was played by J. E. Pearson, and Frank Ivings, cousin of the groom, sang "I'll Walk Beside You." Rev. R. Ashford conducted the service.

Given in marriage by her mother, the bride wore her groom's gift of pearls, with a pastel blue frock of silk faille styled with ruffled peplum, fitted sleeves and high neckline. Adding a note of importance was her model hat of black straw, and she carried an arm bouquet of Talisman roses and yellow gladioli.

Miss Gail Churchill, wearing pastel yellow jersey silk with straw hat to match, was bridesmaid for her sister. She carried an arm bouquet of white carnations and sweet peas.

The groom's brother, Keith Ralston, stood with him as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralston will take up residence at 808 St. Charles Street on their return from their honeymoon at Grouse Nest, East Sooke. The bride traveled in a red tulle suit, with accessories in black.

Octogenarian Here By Air From England

"I'm just a little tired and my body a wee bit stiff, but that is only natural from so much sitting," said 85-year-old Mrs. Mary Stofer, who arrived in the city Tuesday following a journey by air of over 6,000 miles.

She left London at 8 p.m. Sunday aboard a British Overseas Service plane, boarded an United Airlines plane in New York, and arrived at Patricia Bay Airport at 3.10 Tuesday, where she was met by her son, R. G. Stofer, whom she has not seen for 35 years, and Mrs. Stofer.

The spry old lady, smooths her black satin gown with small steady hands that have tousled the heads of her 12 children, as she speaks of the courage the very thought of coming to Canada brought her during the weary years of war.

A chuckle escapes her lips, as she tells how her son warned her before leaving London, "not to speak to any gentlemen without letters on their caps."

"But everyone was so kind to me," she says.

Mrs. Stofer doesn't think she's so unique. "After all," she explains, "many old people are traveling these days." But she adds with a proud smile, "The doctor who examined me prior to my trip, said that my blood pressure was equal to that of a woman 60 years of age."

Never hesitant in her speech, the rosy-cheeked old lady, with smooth white hair coiled at the nape of her neck, spoke of experiences of the war years.

"There were many times when we had to sweep away the debris after bomb explosions," she said.

Her active fingers were kept busy crocheting and knitting articles from any scraps of wool she could find. These articles were sold to raise money for Red Cross and war projects. Among her mementos she treasures a personal letter of thanks from Mrs. Winston Churchill.

Mrs. Stofer cannot quite overcome a feeling of awe at the well-filled Canadian larder, and her eyes grow sad when she speaks of the effort British housewives must make to keep food before their children.

"When we visit friends, we always take along sugar and tea," she stated. "Also on the hard-to-get list is fuel, and for one sack of logs, just about 25 pieces of wood, the cost is $4."

"In London, I have paid as much as two shillings for a single daffodil," said this lady who loves flowers and whose main hobby is gardening. Her husband was gardener at Finsbury Park in London for 50 years.

Thrilled with her trip and with the little she has seen of Victoria, Mrs. Stofer has already sent off three airmail letters to her family in Barnet, London.

"And now I'm writing a good long letter to go by sea, to tell them of all the wonderful things that have happened to me," she explained.

Pre-Nuptial Luncheon Pretty As A Bridal Bouquet

There needs not be a monotonous sameness about parties for the bride and her attendants. If you want to serve something, sentimental and picturesque try a hearts-and-flowers menu that's simple enough to be prepared the day before.

"Bridal Buffet" might be a party given by the bride for her bridesmaids or a luncheon honoring the bride-to-be. The Double Ring salad has a row of strawberry hearts embossed on gold and white molded circles of salad, and accompanying it are hot, light rolls, tied into bows. Fashion nosegays in which to serve the mint ice, add an Orange Blossom cake that is petal smooth and cloud light.

All major preparations may be finished a day in advance: Prepare salad molds; mix the dough for rolls; frost the cake and place in refrigerator, ready for a garnish of whipped cream and orange slices; and brew the syrup for Spiced Tea.

"Here are the recipes:

Double Ring Salad—Soften: 2 envelopes plain unflavored gelatin in ½ cup cold water. Dissolve softened gelatin in 1 cup boiling pineapple juice. Cool until mixture begins to thicken. Measure out ½ cup of this and save. Fold rest of pineapple gelatin mixture into 1 cup heavy cream (whipped). Add 1 cup crushed pineapple and 1 cup cottage cheese. Blend thoroughly.

Halve strawberries. Cut notch from stem ends to make heart-shaped. Place two 'hearts' at intervals around bottom of ring mold which has been rinsed in cold water. Cover berries with the ½ cup of gelatin mixture and chill until set. Fill with pineapple and cheese mixture and chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with strawberries. Recipe fills a 1½-quart mold. Serves 12.

Bowknot Rolls—Combine: 1 cup milk, scalded, ¼ cup melted shortening, ¼ cup sugar, and 1 teaspoon salt. Cool until lukewarm. Soften 2 cakes fresh yeast in ¼ cup lukewarm water. Add yeast to milk and stir in 1 well-beaten egg. Stir in 3½ cups bread flour. Beat vigorously until dough is quite elastic. Turn out on floured board. Knead, until smooth. Place dough in greased bowl, brush with oil, cover and store in refrigerator.

About 1½ hours before baking time, roll dough one inch thick. Cut into strips. Roll into ropes ½ inch thick and 6 to 8 inches long. Tie loosely into a knot. Place on greased cookie sheet. Brush with oil. Let rise until double in bulk. Bake at 450°F. for 15 to 20 minutes.

Orange Blossom Cake—Split (making 4 pounds) 2-8" layers sponge cake. Mix in top of double boiler to smooth: paste 1 tablespoon cornstarch, and 2 tablespoons water. Add 1 cup orange juice and ½ cup sugar. Beat slightly 3 egg yolks. Add to orange-juice mixture. Stir constantly over hot water until mixture coats spoon. Remove from heat.

Add 1½ teaspoons grated orange rind. Beat until stiff 3 egg whites, dash of salt, and ¼ teaspoon vinegar. Slowly add 3 tablespoons sugar. Continue beating until stiff. Carefully fold egg-white mixture into warm orange custard, until combined. Spread filling between layers and over top and sides of cake. Let stand in refrigerator 12 hours. Before serving garnish with sweetened whipped cream. Decorate with orange sections and toasted almonds. Serves 8.

Whipped Cream—Whip until stiff 1 cup cream. Fold in ¼ cup sugar and ½ teaspoon vanilla. This may be stored in refrigerator 2 to 3 hours if necessary.

Nosegays of Ice Cream—Buy medium-sized souffle cups and round paper dollies, 10-inch size. Place cup in centre of dolly. Bring dolly up around cup in fluted effect. Fasten in place with cellophane tape. Circle with green ribbon and finish with a bow.

Fill cups with mint ice. Arrange row of mint leaves between edge of cup and dolly. For added touch, insert a tiny rosebud through ribbon bow.

Dorothy Dix

GIRL SHOULD BREAK AWAY FROM CHUM JEALOUS OF BOY ACQUAINTANCES

Dear Dorothy Dix: My girl friend and I have been very close friends for nine years. We are together in school and at least two nights a week. The only trouble is that when I go out with a boy, she gets jealous of him, not of me, and she starts breaking us up.

There have been several boys I liked very much until she started trying to prejudice me against them by saying little slurring things that would disillusion me and make me turn away from them, which I did. As long as I go with a boy, she gets morbid, gloomy and cross with me, but as soon as I give up the boy, she is my charming friend again.

I don't know how to handle the situation. I don't want to hurt her, but I don't want to give up all of my boy friends. I realize that I can't blight my life because of her, for I can't always be with her and I can't marry her, and I have got to find some way of dealing with this without losing her or my boy friends. What shall I do?—W.P.B.

Answer: Your case is not an unusual one. It is a very common thing for a possessive woman, who has little attraction for men herself, to concentrate her affections on some pretty and attractive girl and stick so close to her that she drive every man away. She monopolizes the girl and is so jealous that she goes into a state of melancholy if the girl shows any interest in either a man or woman. And this makes things so unpleasant for the girl that unless she is of a very strong character she just gradually drifts into being nothing but a stooge to her possessive friend.

Unless you desire to be an old maid, I urge you to make a clean break from this woman entirely. You cannot afford to take any half measures with her. Nothing will drive men away from you quicker than getting to be known as a woman's woman.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am nearly 24 years old and all my life I have listened to the constant bickerings at home. My two brothers have also helped to make my life miserable by always finding fault and criticizing me without mercy. My parents think the boys are very witty and they encourage them to make fun of me, and this has made me very self-conscious, nervous and irritable.

My mother is constantly comparing me with girls in their early teens and never a day goes by that she doesn't tell me how tired and old I look. All of this has made me very bitter. I feel I can't go on being the victim of my family's wisecracks and ridicule any longer, yet if I leave and live alone, it may prove very embarrassing, for I will have to make all sorts of excuses to relatives and friends for going away from home. What shall I do?—A Disheartened Woman

Answer: Get away from your family at once. It is your only salvation, for they have broken down your morale and you will be a nervous wreck unless you head it off by a complete change of environment.

You are a competent, self-supporting business woman. You are not dependent on your family. So why do you feel that you have to stay with them when their favorite indoor sport seems to be ragging you? There is no earthly reason why you should continue to live with them and be made miserable and have your health wrecked when all you have to do is to move away, the farther from them the better, and be able to live in peace.

New Municipal Hall Needed In Oak Bay

"Oak Bay needs a new municipal hall. The present building is inadequate," A. S. G. Musgrave, municipal engineer of Oak Bay, told members of the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club at their Thursday night meeting at the Beach Hotel.

"We have a beautiful location and it is up to all of us to see that the most is made of it," he said.

Mr. Musgrave went on to relate of plans for better boulevards, more street lights and an improved waterfront. He also stressed the need of a civic centre and more parks.

The engineer said that many planned improvements had been delayed because of difficulty in obtaining necessary supplies but added that this situation was now becoming rectified.

Mr. Musgrave discussed other problems facing the municipal council including garbage disposal, roads, sewage, zoning, drainage and vandalism.

Well Varied Program Features Anglican Camp On Thetis Island

Producing plays, publishing a camp newspaper, lectures and sports were included in the activities of the first leader training camp held at Camp Columbia, Thetis Island.

In this new venture of the Anglican Church the diocesan General Board of Religious Education.

Rev. Smith gave a series of lectures on the Christian Home; Canon Creal held daily meditations in the camp's out-door chapel; and Canon Coleman conducted the evening sessions either round the campfire, or in the spacious living-room of Henage House.

Twenty-five campers attended, and engaged in a varied program throughout the week. A daily camp newspaper was published by Mrs. C. C. Guthrie and Miss M. Symonds. Two plays were produced and directed by Miss Margot Gordon: "Mr. Fothergill Joins the Angels," and "The Twelfth Night." In the first of these, a satire, the leading role was taken by Canon Creal, and in the second, an incident from the life of St. Francis, the saint was played by Canon Coleman, the rest of the cast being: Mrs. Ethel Lowery, Misses Bernice Davy, Brenda Morley, June Blandy, Marjory Symonds, Eileen James, Joan Kay, Cecilia Fleetwood, Anna Beketov and Stewart Sterne.

Canon Michael Coleman—Camp Comynandant

missioner, Canon Michael Coleman was camp chief assisted by Canon H. H. Creal, rector of St. Paul's, Esquimalt, as camp chaplain, and the Rev. L. A. G. Smith, western field secretary of the

During the week, the campers had the pleasure of hearing a talk by Dr. A. E. Alderwood, who visited the camp for a day in his capacity of superintendent of Indian and Eskimo residential schools. As a result of his talk, one of the campers, Miss Cecilia Fleetwood, volunteered for work in the Indian Residential School at Alert Bay.

The camp was also host to the D.B.R.E. committee, which held its monthly meeting on Thetis Island, under the chairmanship of Canon Creal. Several residents of Thetis Island attended communion and matins. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jermyn brought their baby girl, Jean Ann, to be baptized in the camp chapel by Canon Coleman, the first such event since Camp Columbia was opened.

At present the Junior Boys' Camp is in progress, with a full camp of 40 boys, to be followed next week by the Junior Girls' Camp, which is also fully registered. There are still a few vacancies for the senior boys and senior girls, to be held in the near future.

ANOTHER ROOSEVELT AT WHITE HOUSE—President Truman takes four-year-old Theodore Roosevelt IV, great-grandson of Teddy, on a tour of the White House grounds on the youngster's visit there with his grandmother, widow of the late Gen. Theodore Roosevelt Jr. She presented the President with a special set of 32 stamps commemorating the general's career.

Dr. Clem Davies Returns To City With Tour Party

"I am conducting a tour in order to show a group of Americans a bit of their country so they can more fully appreciate the United States," said British-born Dr. Clem Davies, who formerly preached at the City Temple in Victoria.

Dr. Davies arrived here Thursday with 275 persons from Los Angeles on a coast-to-coast tour. He returned to the mainland late yesterday afternoon to continue his tour to the eastern United States and Canada.

"People are for ever grumbling about their country," said the preacher, well-known for his frequent outbursts against Communism. "They don't know how lucky they are."

"The American people are fully aware of the danger of Communism," he said, "and are taking steps to prevent them from attaining power."

"Three years ago you couldn't say a word against Communism," he said, "but now it's different. It's the other way round."

He said there was no doubt that Communism had been active in the motion picture industry in Hollywood, but now the authorities had the situation well in hand.

"You'll hear more about that next year," he said. "When the American people are thoroughly aroused to a danger they go to extremes. They'll take care of them."

He said the majority of persons on the tour were people who attended his services at the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles, which is capable of seating 7,000. The party planned to stop over at Yellowstone National Park where a sunrise service will be held.

Town Planners To Choose Hall Site

In addition to deciding whether or not a $3,000,000 hotel shall be built on the present City Hall site, the electorate of Victoria in December will be asked to state where they would like the new City Hall built. Ald. Edward Williams, chairman of the City Hall committee, said today.

He has asked the Town Planning Commission to recommend a suitable site for the proposed new City Hall. The commission started work on checking possible sites during the spring when the possibility of selling the City Hall site to local interests was being voted on. At that time nine tentative sites were under consideration.

Gideons To Resume Services In Park

For several years past, the Victoria Camp of Gideons has conducted a Sunday night service at the bandstand in Beacon Hill Park. These services will be held again in July and August, starting tomorrow evening at

First Annual Inspection Of Scottish Postwar Unit Monday

The postwar edition of the rejuvenated "Fighting First" Battalion of the Canadian Scottish Regiment of World War II—now known as the 1st Battalion of the Scottish in the Reserve Army—will be inspected Monday night at 8 by Brig. E. C. Plow, C.B.E., D.S.O., officer commanding the B.C. area, in the Bay Street Armouries.

This will be the first annual inspection since the reformation of the regiment after the return of the 1st Battalion from overseas on January, 1946.

On parade will be both the colorful pipe band and the newly-formed brass band.

The annual parade and inspection is held to demonstrate to the area commander and his inspecting staff the state of efficiency attained by the unit during the past training year. The unit is officered by seasoned battlefield commissioned ranks, Lt.-Col. R. D. "Bob" Travis, M.B.E., E.D., the commanding officer. Following the inspection and march-past normal training will start.

It is hoped the brigadier will officiate at a presentation of efficiency awards.

Friends and relatives of those on parade are invited to attend the military show.

While the unit is progressing in good shape, there is still a big need for recruits to build the unit to strength. High army officers point out the value of such peacetime units in the event of an emergency again calling Canada to arms. The peacetime units form a nucleus around which active service units are formed.

Hooper Hits, Woop Hurls A's To Win

Johnny Hooper, son of Harry Hooper, one of the all-time greats among major league outfielders, put on an exhibition of hitting at the local ball park last night, that would have warmed the cockles of his father's heart if he had been in the stands. The fleet-footed left fielder smashed two home runs, a triple and single to drive in six runs as Victoria Athletics walloped Tacoma Tigers 12 to 6. Victory gave the A's the series, four games to one, and boosted the club back into fourth place in the W.L.L.

"Greenberg Gardens" got a big play from the Pirates with Wally Westlake hitting two homers and Hank Greenberg and Ralph Kiner one each in Pittsburgh's 7 to 3 romp over Cincinnati's John Jetki.

Tickets are available at sporting goods' stores and from executive members.

Fred Daly New British Open Golf Champion

HOYLAK, Cheshire, Eng. (CP)—Fred Daly, 33-year-old Irishman, won the British Open golf championship here today with a 72-hole total of 293.

He succeeds Sam Snead of the United States who did not defend the title.

He had led with two rounds of 143—made up of 73 and 70—at the start of the day, being four strokes ahead of his nearest rival. He frittered this lead away, however, in the vital third round, at the end of which he shared the lead with three other players.

In the final round Daly played a sterling 72 and saw his rivals "blow up" one after the other.

Daly holds the Irish Open championship which he will defend next week.

Burly Frank Stranahan of Ohio, crack United States amateur, nosed into a tie for second place with 294. Stranahan, who had a second-round 78 yesterday, steadied today for a pair of 72's. He had 71 on his first round Wednesday.

Also in second place was R. W. Horne, British professional, who turned in 72 and 71 today after a shaky first two days of 77 and 74.

Johnny Bulla, Arizona pro and airplane pilot, had a 74-71 card for the day, and his aggregate of 297 left him four strokes in arrears. Vic Ghezzi of Kansas City, only other American in the final 36-hole drive, shot 72-79 and wound up with 304.

Small Loss From Burglaries Of 3 Gas Stations, 1 Store

List of thefts in Greater Victoria during the last two weeks in Greater Victoria included new break-ins last night with little loss secured, police reported.

In Oak Bay overnight, two service stations were entered by forcible means. Chief of Police Hugh Reston, however, said that preliminary investigation had revealed that only 85 cents in change was secured from one. This was the Arena Service Station at Cadboro Bay Road and Cranmore Road. The door was jammed open.

Police had not determined this morning what loss was suffered by the thieves who broke the door glass to release the lock at Horton's Service Station, at Cadboro Bay Road and Florence Street.

Ten quarters and six tins of oil are missing from the Atlas Service Station at Pendergast and Cook Streets. Constable Harry Hoshal, on his rounds at 2:45 this morning, reported the entry was made by forcing a rear window. Constables W. Elliott and Norman Galbraith attended.

Three cheap wrist watches and a cigarette lighter were stolen by burglars who broke into Pringle's store at Craigflower and Admirals Roads. Provincial police officer Jack Lockie on patrol in the police car discovered the entry at 3:40 this morning.

William H. Arnold, 1068 Bank Street, reported to city police that while his car was parked outside 1109 Princess Avenue on Wednesday night two pairs of trousers were stolen.

Four dresses, a ladies' suit, a man's suit and kimono, in addition to a small amount of cash, are missing from the Tip Top Cleaners, Government St., which was entered on Wednesday night.

Orders Deportation Of Three Jamaicans

Three Jamaican stowaways who saw the world aboard a British ship and who are now held at the Immigration building here will be deported to their country. Immigration officials announced today.

A board of inquiry held here ordered the deportation of Roy Sylvester Francisco, Cyril Augustus Johnson and Kenneth Alfonso Nunes, who were taken into custody at Nanaimo aboard the ship Imperial Monarch June 26.

The trio will be taken back aboard the Imperial Monarch which will be held responsible for their return to the British West Indies. Immigration officials said.

The three Jamaicans hid in a deck boat when the Imperial Monarch left Jamaica nearly a year ago. They were discovered aboard when the ship was too far out to sea to return to port.

According to the trio they wanted to see the world and had no intentions of making an illegal entry into any country.

Jobless Total In Canada 16,000 Lower Than In 1946

In an Ottawa release on the current national manpower picture, the number of unemployed applicants seeking jobs through the National Employment Service is now 16,000 less than the point reached in 1946.

This has occurred at a time when the full seasonal activity, which occurs during the summer and autumn, is just beginning. Each year at this time, a rapid upswing in employment begins.

It is the opinion of Ottawa officials that the remainder of 1947 will see a definite shortage of labor rather than any general scarcity of jobs.

At June 12, 1947, there were 118,000 jobless. This compares with 142,000 at May 8 of this year and 200,000 a year ago. By sex there were 86,000 males and 32,000 female applicants on June 12 when unfilled vacancies totaled 108,000. Jobs for women outnumbered applicants by 9,000.

The report also notes that for the first time in two years construction contracts awarded are declining and it is not expected the 1947 total will reach the 1946 figure. Residential construction has declined in many areas.

"The small investor seems to be waiting until the competition for labor and materials is not so great and costs are not so high. Industrial construction has been influenced by the same trends but to a lesser extent. Despite these developments, however, the immense amount of work on hand for this industry indicates an unprecedented labor shortage."

In the Pacific coast region there were 15,000 unfilled applicants for jobs and 8,000 unfilled vacancies. The general employment situation in B.C. shows rapid improvement—the labor surplus 60 per cent lower than one year ago.

It is pointed out that skilled miners are still urgently needed "wage increases having been successfully negotiated in a quiet and orderly manner."

Victoria had 1,675 applications for jobs at June 12 and there were 801 unfilled vacancies. In addition to keeping a sharp lookout for speedsters, Saanich police, like other police forces in the Greater Victoria area, are clamping down on motorists who do not keep to the right when there is a double line centering the road. In Saanich court Thursday four drivers paid $15 each for traveling over 30 miles per hour and four others were fined $10 each for passing over the double line.

Wallace Prior was committed for trial on three counts when he appeared before Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court this morning. The charges allege that on June 21 he "unlawfully entered a dwelling house by night, assaulting Mable Davis, his mother-in-law, and his wife."

After the magistrate had finished his statement committing the defendant on the three counts, Prior asked for a change of election to have his trial before Magistrate Hall. His counsel, he said, was out of town and had asked him to make the application to the magistrate.

"Once I commit you for trial, I am through with your case. I cannot grant your application," Magistrate Hall said.

The annual picnic of the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion will be held Sunday at Elk Lake. Buses will leave the clubrooms at 9:30 to 11:30.

Symphony To Drive For New Members

A general meeting of the Victoria Symphony Society was held Thursday evening in the Arcade Auditorium, through courtesy of Spencer's Sports and Social Association.

Miss Sara Spencer presided. S. J. D. Clark, gave a financial report and Jack Barracough spoke on a proposed drive for new members.

Mrs. E. E. Buckfield, past-president of the Vancouver Symphony Society, who came from the mainland city especially for the meeting, addressed the members on symphony matters.

She gave a comprehensive outline of what a symphony orchestra means to a community and also what a symphony orchestra society has to do to sell itself to the public.

The speaker stressed the need of a strong women's committee within the society, and said the work of the women's committee of the Vancouver Symphony Society was invaluable.

Duties and loyalties of members of the orchestra to their society were also explained by Mrs. Buckfield.

Announcement was made during the meeting that Melvin Knudsen would direct symphony concerts during the coming season and that Mrs. Gertrude Huntly Green, well-known Canadian pianist would be guest artist at the first concert, early in November.

Builders Seek Action Against Electrical Workers' 'Holiday'

Following a meeting of the directors of the Victoria Builders' Exchange, George H. Wheaton, president, has written Labor Minister Pearson to seek action by provincial authorities against the officials and members of Local No. B230, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Mr. Wheaton charges that the members of this union have gone on strike without any proper warning or notice.

The trouble started Saturday, June 28, when F. J. Bevis, business agent of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers here, announced that all member electricians were going to take their annual holidays starting Wednesday, July 2.

"This holiday is apparently of indeterminate duration and, as far as we know, no date has been set for a return to work," Mr. Wheaton's letter to the labor minister states.

Mr. Wheaton further states that picketing activities are being carried on "which would seem unnecessary during a holiday period."

"Until this dispute is settled, construction work is being delayed and disrupted and the continuous employment of other trades will be jeopardized for lack of electrical workers," the letter continues.

Mr. Wheaton states: "While the Victoria Builders' Exchange is prepared to assist in promoting an early settlement, the first request is that the improper action of the union, in causing an illegal shutdown, be made subject to the penalties now provided by law."

A record number of tourists are expected here over the week-end as thousands of Americans arrived today by boat and by air to celebrate the July 4 holiday in Victoria.

The heavy influx of tourists began last night and was expected to continue throughout the day, shipping officials reported.

Major hotels said they were booked solid for the week-end and were being besieged with requests for accommodations by hundreds of tourists who arrived this morning by boat.

Trans-Canada Air Lines announced that it had put on extra flights between Patricia Bay and Seattle in order to cope with hundreds of Americans who were anxious to spend the week-end in Victoria.

"All seats have been reserved through the Seattle office," said an air official. "Everything is booked for the week-end."

Ms. Chinook, of the Black Ball Line, was jammed to capacity when it left Seattle for Victoria this morning, according to George Paulin, agent.

The vessel stopped to pick up passengers at Port Angeles, but was obliged to leave a large number of cars behind, he said. These would be picked up during the day.

"We expect thousands more to arrive here later today," said Mr. Paulin. "Despite the fact that the Chinook can carry over 100 cars at a time, we have been obliged to leave a large number behind."

C.P.R. officials also reported they expected record crowds aboard their ships today.

Transportation officials said the heavy influx of tourists was large, due to July 4 falling on a week-end which permitted the average person to travel further.

Fisherman Tells Harrowing Story Of Shipwreck Off Jordan River

From his bed in St. Joseph's Hospital, Tom Jones of Milne's Landing today told the grim story of his narrow escape from drowning when his $10,000 trawler Karmar went aground at Boulder Beach, four miles west of Jordan River Wednesday.

Stranded on the beach and in an exhausted condition after swimming three times to the grounded vessel for food supplies, the fisherman was rescued by the Dominion government fisheries vessel Kitimat, commanded by Capt. C. W. Earnshaw. He was taken to Victoria for medical treatment.

The 38-foot fishing boat was proceeding at daybreak for Udulet when its engine failed. Caught in a strong wind, the boat drifted toward the rock-bound coast.

When the trawler struck bottom, Mr. Jones was washed overboard in a sea strewn with boulders protruding above and under the water. In his swim to shore, huge waves pounded him against rocks, bruising him badly.

"I shall never forget that swim," said the fisherman, admitting he was terrified. "I sank several times and was thrown against rocks by the sea."

Cut off from civilization by a rugged coast line and dense forest, Mr. Jones was afraid of being stranded on the beach for some days or forced to walk to Jordan River.

As the vessel was still afloat, but securely grounded, Mr. Jones decided to get provisions from his boat. He accomplished this with great difficulty, by jumping and swimming from one boulder to another.

The fisherman said he managed to get a small rowboat into the water on the lee side of the vessel and load it with food. But just as he got into the boat it was swamped by a wave and sank.

Caught unawares, Mr. Jones was swept toward shore by waves and for a second time received bruises from contact with rocks.

THREW FOOD OVERBOARD

Undaunted by his misfortune, the fisherman made another attempt to reach the vessel and this time was successful. He was able to throw some food overboard, which subsequently floated ashore.

Community Hall For Cordova Bay

At the monthly meeting of the Cordova Bay Community Club held in McMorran's Hall, it was unanimously decided to proceed with the project of erecting a community hall for the use of the residents of Cordova Bay.

For some time past a committee under the leadership of H. Savage has been exploring the possibility of building such a hall. The proposal has been taken up with the minister of education and the local school board and it now seems probable that the Community Club will be able to secure a site on the school grounds and erect a building that will give recreational needs of both the school and the community.

The committee's report received the hearty approval of the meeting and the committee was instructed to carry on negotiations with the authorities concerned; to secure plans and estimates of the cost and report back to the next meeting. In the meantime it was decided to create a building fund, and it was proposed to devote the proceedings of "Klondike Nite" to this fund.

D. Fletcher, sports director, reported that the swimming classes conducted on Saturday afternoons by instructors furnished by the Y.M.C.A. have been well patronized.

It was also decided to become affiliated with the local Film Council and thus secure the benefits and privileges of the film library.

Gasoline Prizes For Safe Driving

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton motorists who find themselves being followed by a police car usually wind up with a "ticket," but next week they may wind up with the donation of a tank of gasoline.

The gasoline—10 gallons—will be awarded to one motorist each day during the Edmonton Safety Council's "courtesy campaign." The "safety driving prize" contest is being conducted in co-operation with city police and Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Points will be awarded for observance of traffic rules, caution in driving, road courtesy, brake alignment, lights and steering.

He doesn't clearly recollect how he got ashore.

"All I remember is swimming and crawling from one rock to another," he said.

Suffering from cold and exposure, the fisherman decided to try to reach Jordan River by way of a creek cutting through the cliff. He was so exhausted that he began his journey on hands and knees.

"I was stopped by a waterfall some 30 feet high," he related. "God was on my side, for had I been able to continue up the creek I would have missed the Kitimat and probably would never have reached Jordan River."

He was in a semi-conscious condition when the crew of the Kitimat found him on the beach.

Mr. Jones highly praised the men and Capt. Earnshaw for the way they looked after him.

"We don't appreciate fully those fisheries boats," he said. "I don't know what we would do without them."

"I've had accidents—all sorts of them—and I went through the Great War," said the stocky fisherman who has had 12 years' experience at sea, "but I never went through an experience like this and I hope I never have to again."

COLLAPSED WHEN RESCUED

According to Capt. Earnshaw, the Kitimat was on a routine cruise when the grounded vessel was sighted and Mr. Jones was seen waving his arms from the beach.

"We saw him collapse on the beach," he said. "We had some difficulty in getting a boat ashore. Mr. Jones ran to meet us as we waded ashore and collapsed in the arms of a crew member."

He said the fisherman was suffering badly from exposure and was very ill when taken aboard the vessel.

As for the trawler, Capt. Earnshaw said they brought it back to Victoria for repairs.

This Eva is the 26-year-old

Italian wife of a Milan lawyer, Alessandro Coppa, who went to the South Tyrol with her eight-month-old baby for a vacation.

Her mother explained Thursday that Eva's passport was made out in the name of Eva Braun and she showed it as identification to cash the cheque.

"Oh, she's no relation of the other Eva," her mother laughed.

Urges Positive Steps Be Taken To Fight Reds

VANCOUVER (CP)—A warning that positive steps must be taken to combat the shadow of Communism that hangs over the world was made by Hon. Gordon Sloan, Chief Justice of British Columbia, in his address of welcome to delegates to the first annual meeting of the B.C. section of the Canadian Bar Association, here Thursday.

The Chief Justice compared the world to a tinder dry forest that could be set ablaze by a mere spark.

"Communism is a rank growth that flourishes in undernourished soil," he said. "Properly to fight Communism," he said, "the people should be offered a better way of living, and through that 'we can grow our own civilization.'"

The warning of the Chief Justice was echoed by Senator G. G. McGeer, K.C., Mayor of Vancouver, who said that "out of the slums of Montreal you get your serious Communist agitation."

Hon. J. C. McRuer, Chief Justice of the Ontario High Court, and-president of the Canadian Bar Association, stated organization of a B.C. section of the Bar Association was a forward step, which would assist the work of the central body.

Tribute to the memory of Viscount Bennett was paid in a resolution moved by J. A. Clark, K.C., who lauded the high legal attainments, indomitable courage and patriotism of the late ex-Prime Minister.

Indefinite Terms Provided For Habitual Criminals

OTTAWA (CP)—Amendments to the Criminal Code—a far-reaching measure providing among other things indefinite imprisonment for habitual criminals—held the parliamentary spotlight Thursday.

The bill was put through second reading, committee stage and third reading and now goes to the Senate for final approval.

Its heart lies in a section by which indefinite imprisonment could be decreed by the courts for persons convicted three separate times of offences carrying with them terms of at least five years' duration.

Minor Senate amendments to the Income War Tax Act were approved and the House gave third reading to a bill establishing a benevolent fund of the more than $9,000,000 which accrued from army canteen funds during the war. The money will go to aid needy former servicemen and their dependents.

Given first reading was a measure to provide pensions for senior appointees of the External Affairs Department serving outside Canada and their dependents and to give statutory basis to the veterans' preference in the Civil Service Act and make other changes in that measure.

The House gave first reading to a bill to provide increases for members of the Civil Service Commission.

By breaking a window and releasing the catch, thieves entered the Tip Top Cleaners, 1708 Government Street, on Thursday night and secured $4.50 in silver from a drawer under the counter, city police were informed this morning. Ronald Colman Returns To Screen

Marking the return to the screen of Ronald Colman after a two-year absence, and introducing the beautiful young British star, Peggy Cummins, "The Late George Apley," 20th Century-Fox's filmization of John P. Marquand's Pulitzer Prize novel, opens today at the Royal Theatre.

In the title role of the hilarious film, Ronald Colman is seen as the staid Bostonian aristocrat, who, still living in the world of birds and bees, is catapulted into the battle of his life when confronted with the facts of life via the "unconventional" romance of his impetuous daughter with a Yale graduate.

Versatile Actor In Colorful Role

Kenne Duncan, appearing prominently in Republic's "Hands Across the Border," starring Roy Rogers, now being featured at the Dominion Theatre, has had a past as varied and colorful as the roles he plays in films.

Born Kenneth Duncan, MacLachlan at Chatham, Ont., he was educated at St. Andrew's College, Toronto, and later at the Royal School of Infantry, Wolsey Barracks, London.

He was a stage actor before entering pictures in 1930.

Roy Rogers' leading lady in "Hands Across the Border" is lovely Ruth Terry.

PLAZA THEATRE

Giving the little woman everything she wants can be a dangerous business.

This axiom is brought out in the dramatic conflict for Walter Wagner's "Smash-Up--The Story of a Woman," now at the Plaza Theatre.

Susan Hayward portrays the young wife who runs into grief from the over-indulgences of her husband, played by Lee Bowman. He unwittingly denies her expression of her talents.

Marsha Hunt and Eddie Albert co-star with Miss Hayward and Bowman in the Universal-International film.

Racing fans will have little chance to find fault with the exciting race track scenes in M-G-M's new picture, "My Brother Talks To Horses," featuring "Butch" Jenkins, Peter Lawford and Beverly Tyler on the Atlas screen. An exact replica of the paddock area and grandstand of Maryland's famed Pimlico race track was constructed on the studio's back lot. Albert Johnson, noted jockey of bygone years, who once won the Preakness, was hired as technical adviser for the film version of that famous race. To make certain that the horses in the picture looked realistic, M-G-M brought several well-known racers from Tijuana, Mexico's number one track, to appear as equine "extras."

CAPITOL THEATRE

Slumber comes in for plenty of attention in Paramount's "Suddenly It's Spring," now at the Capitol Theatre, all the principals appearing at one time or another in sleep attire.

Not only do Paulette Goddard and Arleen Whelan, the feminine leads, have several changes of nightgowns and revealing negligees, but Fred MacMurray and MacDonald Carey also have bedroom scenes.

GOOD EVENING

A large number of you folks who read the Times need little introduction to our store, many of you have been our customers for a long time now, so we thought you would be interested in knowing of our new store location. It's at 721 Johnson St., just half a block up from Douglas, on the same side of the street as Maynard's and right next door to Peden's Shoe Store. We think that you know that our store is not a "Gey's You Save," it's not a "fact" and when we make any sale it is on the understanding that we will re- turn your money in full if the goods we sell to you are not as good as we say they are. That's the only way we care to do business and the folks who buy here do so confidently.
